NCFA National Championship Recap

Salem Stadium played host to one of the most exciting National Championship games in NCFA history. On the cold winter night of December 5th, #1 ranked Miami University took on #2 Middle Georgia State in the 2015 NCFA National Championship. The game featured two of the top running backs in the NCFA in DD Wright from Middle Georgia State and Ty Rus of Miami University. In a game that went back and forth, it ended up being decided by a late touchdown by Middle Georgia State's DD Wright with 50 seconds left in the game to pull ahead of Miami University 33-26. Congratulations to Middle Georgia State on a successful season and on winning the 2015 NCFA National Championship!

The Spring Training Experience

Cleveland State Club Baseball decided last year to make the executive decision to attend the 2015 NCBA Spring Training Showcase and are eager to attend the 2016 NCBA Spring Training Showcase this year. Bryan Holmstrom President of Cleveland State Club Baseball stated "We decided to go to the 2016 Spring Training tournament because it's a chance to play teams from around the country that we wouldn't normally have the chance to play. Our experience last year was a memorable time to say the least. When we weren't playing baseball, the team was either out by the pool throwing a football around or on the beach enjoying the warm weather. It's a much-needed break from the Cleveland winter. This is the biggest event of the year for our guys and helps prepare us for our spring season. We rent about three passenger vans and make a 17-hour drive down to Tampa. Most of the guys take this chance to catch up on beauty sleep, but it's a great chance to build up the team chemistry that is essential for our success throughout the season. I'm really looking forward to spending a week in Florida with my best friends, but most importantly, playing some good baseball in the sun.

Oregon looking to defend 2015 World Series Title

The Oregon Ducks are looking to defend their 2015 World Series title this year with many familiar faces from last year returning for the 2016 season. Team President, Mikey Finneran stated "With the core of our starting line-up coming back this year, we will have a strong team again this year. Finneran has great expectations for his team this year" with getting back to Paducah on their mind. Oregon also acquired new players this year, to prepare for their large senior class who are expected to graduate in May of 2016. "With the addition of the new players and only two starting players leaving the line-up from last year, we will be a solid contender this year at a World Series appearance" said Finneran. Oregon is most looking forward to playing against the University of Washington because they are a new addition to the league, and they are looking forward to the talent that they will bring out for their first year.

Coaches Corner

Coach Mock came into Middle Georgia State in his first year planning to create a brotherhood among the players and eventually lead them to a championship. His instillation of discipline and brotherhood caught fire among the MGS players and they rode that flame all the way to the 2015 NCFA title. Congratulations to Coach Mock on his successful season and being named the 2015 NCFA Coach of the Year!
