Another Showcase Under the Sun

Pittsburgh, PA – CollClubSports and the National Club Baseball Association are excited to announce that they will once again be partnering with the Tampa Bay Sports Commission to put on the 2014 NCBA Spring Training Showcase in Tampa, FL. This will be the ninth year that the NCBA and Tampa have partnered to host this event. With an expected 60+ collegiate club baseball teams attending the Spring Training Showcase at Mike Sansone Park in Plant City, FL, anticipation for the 2014 event is already building. Businesses, teams and their fans are gearing up for what should be another sunny Spring Break for everyone who attends.

The field complex at Mike Sansone Park was formerly used for spring training by the Texas Rangers. The park features two full-size baseball fields and an auxiliary practice field. In addition, the complex boasts two NCAA Regulation softball fields with four batting tunnels. The field crews and umpire staff at Mike Sansone Park are a huge part of the success that the Spring Training Showcase has seen over the past eight years. Their commitment to excellence and passion for the game of baseball are sure to make the 2014 Spring Training Showcase exceed expectations yet again.

For many, the Spring Training Showcase has become an annual event. The Tampa area offers a numbers of activities for teams to enjoy on their Spring Break. Participants can soak up the sun at nearby Clearwater Beach, ride the rides at Busch Gardens or get tickets to see a Blue Jays or Phillies spring training game in Clearwater, or the Yankees game right in Tampa. Take a drive to see the Braves, Orioles, Pirates and Tigers too. With so many things to do teams should make sure to set aside some time to play ball!

“Indiana University has gone down [to the Spring Training Showcase] for a number of years now and we like that we get to play unique quality competition while also being in Florida for spring break,” said Lucas Mueller, IU Club Baseball President.
