- Notables: Semi final appearance in Battle Creek Blast. Winning the Duel in the Dells tournament.

Number of Returning Players (Include conference/league award winners): 16 (2 all-conference players)

Players to Watch: Jake Nipperus and Connor Hilty lead the way as all conference members. Mike Pfaender, Jon Jakobson, and Josh Periswamy had a great fall campaign and look to power the Redbirds towards a shot at the conference title/regional berth. Shayne McNally and Chris Pickwell are recovered from injury to help provide a dominant top half of the rotation.

New additions: Billy Printz, Blake Pettys, Josh Meglio, Josh Periswamy, Josh Rouka, Keegan Henley, Matt Marvin, Will Yurchack.(8)

conference/official conference games), we brought home the Duel in the Dells tournament title, beating a solid Nebraska team in the semi-finals before 10 run ruling co-hosts Wisconsin D2 in the final This year's team has a balance of senior leadership and underclassmen that should help propel the Birds to a successful spring season. Florida will once again open the spring season and if the Birds can find a level of play consistent with the ability this team has, you'll see a team playing deep into the national picture.

Manager Quote: "A lot of guys have been around for multiple years now and know what it'll take to reach our postseason goals. We have a lot of talent at each spot but it'll take another level of consistent play and dedication to reach our potential, especially with Illinois winning it all last season. We know we have the ability to beat anyone anyday but our main focus will be playing a consistent 1-7 (or 9) inning game each time we step on the field. This group wants to send arguably our most talented senior class ever off with a ring and we know we have the capability of doing so.

season is going to be even stronger. With that, we are returning both of our All-Americans and have a very solid core to lead our team. Our lineup is very solid from top to bottom and our defense will be unbreakable. We are expecting to go back to Holly Springs to defend our title.

Manager Quote: “Although we lost some key players at the top end of our lineup, we are filling those spots with very strong experienced players that will be able to step up and contribute in a big way. We are also returning a lot of key players from our national championship team including our entire rotation while adding multiple more strong arms, which is why our goal is to go back to holly springs to try and defend our crown.”

Number of Returning Players (Include conference/league award winners): Michigan Club Baseball is returning 17 players, including 1st Team All Great Lakes Center Fielder (17-18)
Parker Marcon

Players to Watch: Rookie Raj Sharma looks to be a dominant force on the mound for the Michigan Club Baseball team. The league is going to have a lot of trouble facing him over the next 4 years. Sophomore Brian Kolstad took on a very important role last year hitting 4th in the lineup as a rookie. We expect Brian to have a breakout season for his sophomore campaign. Sophomore Jason Stahlman will be a very important piece to our team as he plays a multitude of positions and brings a speed element to our lineup that we haven't had over the last couple of years.

New additions: Raj Sharma, Aidan Johnson, Brett Rogers, Max McLoughlin, Koby Bernstein, Kyle Zabel, Jake Hopper, Brendan Murrell, James Pfaff, Maxx Estrin, AJ Sheinberg, Marc Tsukroff

2019-2020 Season Outlook: Michigan Club Baseball received a Wild Card berth 2 years ago. Our expectation is to compete for another chance to play in the regional tournament. With the consistent play from a solid Michigan State program and the rise of Windsor, this is the most competitive conference in the Great Lakes Region. We expect to be battling with those two teams for the top spot of the GLN for the last two weeks of the spring season. It is going to be an intense month of April.

Manager Quote: “We have a lot of talent returning and should be as good as anybody in our Conference this year. With that being said, this season we took on the biggest rookie class we have had in recent history. Michigan Club Baseball is going to be competitive this year and for many seasons to come.”

- Notables: N/A

Number of Returning Players (Include conference/league award winners):

18

Players to Watch:

Mason Propper (1B/OF) - sneakily athletic senior with best overall bat on the team, great eye for the zone and gap-to-gap power with potential for some home runs

Joey Butler (RHP) - sophomore transfer who played varsity at Notre Dame, high velocity arm

Miles Massay (LHP) - freshman with exceptional command and sharp movement on both curveball and slider

Lucas Gould (RHP/DH) - junior with deceptive delivery, multiple arm slots and great command. Difficult out at the plate with power to all fields strong senior class (i.e. Isaac Lee, Max Goodman, Justin Halpern, and Patrick Lin). With an abundance of exciting freshmen arms joining a surprisingly successful rotation from last season, the Wildcats pitching staff looks like it will be one of the team's strengths. Offensively, the Wildcats lineup will be anchored by Mason Propper, Andy Marquardt, and Robin Kim—all upperclassmen poised for big seasons at the plate. The new additions should provide the lineup with infield depth and positional flexibility, which NUCB has been missing in recent years.

Manager Quote: “There will be growing pains, as there are with any unfamiliar teams, but in terms of talent and depth, this is the best NUCB team I have seen in my time here. We will be dependent on our new freshman class to contribute right away, and from what we can tell, they seem ready for the challenge. There is no limit to what we can achieve this year once we all learn how to play together.”

talent looks to have to ability to help lead Wisconsin to their 8th straight Great Lakes West Conference title.

Manager Quote: We are excited to get down to Florida to officially start our spring season on March 16th. There is plenty of new talent on our roster this year and it will be fun to see how these guys fit into our lineup. I'm confident in the leadership we have coming back and excited for the upcoming season.
